Full Project Title: Measurement of diet and lifestyle behaviours

Principal Researchers: Dr Mathew Ling, Dr Emily Kothe, Ms Madelon North

Student Researchers: Ms Abigail Elder

You are invited to participate in our study investigating how best to measure adoption of lifestyle behaviours.

Participation will involve answering some questions about your consumption habits, and then about your views about your values that will allow us to contextualise your responses on the behavioural items. This should on average take 20 minutes to complete.

No identifying information will be collected as part of our research data. So we will not be able to identify your particular responses in our data.

We do not anticipate any risks to you from participation, however, we anticipate the results of this study will help us understand consumption behaviours, with implications for policy, environmental conservation and public health.

Participation is voluntary and you have the right to withdraw from further participation at any stage up to the submission of your data. Submission of the final results will be taken as an indication of your consent. As your data will not be identified, it will be impossible to withdraw consent after results are submitted.

If you have questions relating to this research project, you can contact the lead researcher, Dr Mathew Ling via email (m.ling@deakin.edu.au) or telephone +61 3 9244 6475.

Declarations and Conflicts of interests

All funding for this research is provided by Deakin's School of Psychology.

Communication of results and data

Results of this study will be used as part of the thesis components of Abigail Elder's Graduate Diploma of Psychology. They will also be published in academic journals and via social media to maximize accessibility and benefit of your participation to the public; Results may also be presented at conferences. If you wish to view the results from this study, manuscripts will be released at this following address (<https://osf.io/nbpqm/>).

After removing any identifying features from the dataset, this de-identified data will be published in a public, online data-store at the Open Science Foundation (<https://osf.io/x3ap6/>). Your identity will never be exposed by this, but this will allow for verification of results and unanticipated research findings through secondary analysis.

Complaints

If you have any complaints about any aspect of the project, the way it is being conducted or any questions about your rights as a research participant, then you may contact:

The Human Research Ethics Office, Deakin University, 221 Burwood Highway, Burwood Victoria 3125, Telephone: +61 3 9251 7129, research-ethics@deakin.edu.au
